

I AM Powerful

Where People Connect to Peace, Power and Passion!

ShannonRae has proven herself as a powerful and poetic woman, captivating her wide scope of audiences with her precise words, her electrifying presence, her inspiring wisdom and her vast range of expertise for the past 18 years.

Business owner, entrepreneur, coach, consultant, published author, poet, speaker, social activist, artist, mother, friend, sister, daughter, passionate woman... No matter how you connect with this woman, and her team, transmutation will occur, creating exponential results and heart in your life and business.

ShannonRae founded and runs the Power Integration Center, a development organization, and owns Shannon Squared, a management consulting firm. Her undergraduate degree in Human Development, master's degree in Organizational and Human Effectiveness, and most importantly intuition about people, enable her to support individuals, families and organizations in achieving their greatest potential, rooted in their core essence.

She is a CEO with proven solutions to increase revenue, boost profit margins and empower under-performing components of her clients' business. She provides her clients the tools they need to produce the results they desire through methods they can sustain for the long run. She works in various arenas of business and service sectors – from large corporations, non-profits, small business, and government to private individuals, groups, families and couples. Her clients include companies from Hilton Grand Vacations to non-profits like ONE Circle Foundation, from the State of Iowa to the Shade Tree Shelter, from executives to homeless women. Her reach is vast, her touch is deep.

Through her speaking, coaching and consulting ShannonRae offers a systemic and simple approach to address an organization's core business and service creating exponential results, exponential heart. At the Power Integration Center she is shifting the nature of power from external forces to internal sources in individuals, service sectors and companies through self-sustained behavior management tools and a ground breaking program called I AM Powerful.

You can experience exponential results and exponential heart with her personally, as well as through her teams, at both the Power Integration Center and Shannon Squared.
